

Learning Disability Teachers Consultant (LDTC)

Felician University

Program Design

The LDTC Certification is designed to prepare teachers to become educational diagnosticians functioning on a Child Study Team. The need for learning consultants in the State of New Jersey who are skilled, collaborative, and compassionate is significant. The design of this program will afford such LDTC candidates this opportunity.

Discover how to work with child study teams, families, teachers, and administrators to create the most effective learning environment and curriculum for students with disabilities.

TTI is proud to offer a post-Masters 24 credit degree program in conjunction with Felician University. After attaining this degree students will be eligible for multiple opportunities to coordinate evaluation and remediation of students in the public sector.
