

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in the Bachelors of Food and Nutrition Program, coordinated by TTI. Students will be prepared for careers in health care facilities, community-health nutrition programs, and food service management and business. This is a rigorous program that includes online math and science classes. The right candidates will be self-motivated and have a record of academic excellence. In addition to online coursework, students will complete food lab experiments and internships in a variety of locations. Successful completion of this program leads to the Registered Dietitian (RD) Licensure. The TTI program offers students an outstanding academic experience and the foremost training in this field of study.

Enclosed you will find the application for the Nutrition program. Please note that a $100 application fee is required. TTI will not accept an incomplete application. A self-check list is available on the last page of your application to ensure that you submit ALL of the necessary requirements.

All applications must be received by July 12, 2022. Early application is encouraged, as there are numerous admissions/placement requirements that are time-sensitive. TTI will be reviewing all applications received and you should receive a response within 7-10 days. All materials must be received by this deadline in order for your application to be reviewed. Your completed application may be sent via mail, e-mail or fax to:

Avigayil Rosenblum
25 East Lane
Spring Valley, NY 10977
avigayil.rosenblum@consulttti.com
fax: 845-205-9501

The online courses begin August 2022. You may need to take a math placement exam before this date in order to register for some of the upcoming courses.

TTI is ready to assist you. You may call or email to discuss your educational and professional goals. If you have any questions about the enclosed application or the nutrition program, please do not hesitate to reach out to us at 877-RING-TTI ext 0.

We look forward to receiving your application.

Sincerely,

Avigayil Rosenblum
Nutrition Program Director
